Drama

Drama- Characterization within Greek Theatre Unit description:

During this unit, they will expand and develop their confidence, creativity and communication skills. This Drama course introduces the basic theatre standards of acting, directing and writing- and combines these techniques with the common core standards of creating, performing, responding and connecting. The students will understand the origins and background of Drama, and what inspired Theatre as we it know today. Students will understand and apply the basic Greek Conventions to a script, collaborating as an ensemble of actors. The learners will be required to practice and apply the process of characterisation to all elements of this unit, embodying the art of playing a character with truth and creativity.

Business

In the final unit, students will undertake a micro business plan project where they will understand the basics elements needed to start a business. They will develop a business plan for a business of their choice using the theory learnt in lessons.

Art

In the final unit, students will create a celebration mask project. Students will create a design prior to creation of the mask. Students will be assessed on their practical skills and on creativity. During creation students will receive a summative assessment and will get involved in peer assessment. Formative assessment will occur upon the end of the unit (rubric).
